

Greenhouse Crew

Position Description: Primary duties vary, but include transplanting, deadheading, plant display creating and finessing, customer assisting, and lots of plant moving and carrying. Must be able to regularly lift 35+lbs. (our soil bags weigh about that much). You'll start out helping with greenhouse production — that is transplanting baby plants, filling pots/trays with soil, etc. — many tasks that are very repetitive and require a high attention to detail. As the season progresses, tasks become much more customer oriented — answering questions, helping carry and load plants, maintaining pretty displays. There may also be some landscaping work available too as we plant and care for our cut flower and display beds.

In short: we're looking for someone who is eager to learn, hard-working and good humored.

Timeline and Availability: Position starts early spring through late May (potential for more work possible). Must be available to work Mothers' Day weekend.

About us: We are a family-owned greenhouse and produce farm open to the public mid-March through October. We grow a wide variety of annuals, perennials, vegetables, herbs, pots, and baskets each season. Then as summer begins we focus on our produce harvest starting with strawberries, then tomatoes, peppers, sweet corn, and melons. Later we pick pumpkins and winter squash.

Compensation: Hourly rate based on experience and performance. Employee discount for plants and access to vegetable seconds also offered.

To apply: Apply online at harrimanfarms.com/jobapplication Applications will be accepted and interviews scheduled on a rolling basis until we find the right person.

Thanks for your interest in working with us this season!
